

Nothing At All

Bob Moses

You've given in and let them through
To follow them, you fall in too
You lose the voice that leads the way
When all the words just sound the same
The houses hum in silent scene
The static behind everything
The crowd you seek puts you down
So listen in and let it out

Cause what they say, don't mean nothing at all
They say it don't mean nothing and
All they say, it don't mean nothing at all
It don't mean nothing at all

So this is what it's coming to
To follow them we follow through
Down the rabbit hole you see
That they won't ever let you be
