Ordinary Day

Bob Moses

So you say that we lost our way
No hope for a better day
Hear the words that I need to say
Before you turn away
Everybody hurts the same

Though we both know that I'm to blame
There's no mercy in breaking chains
So if you turn away
Tell me will it hurt the same?

I really wonder if I could
Find another way
Oh won't you tell me that you would
Find the heart to stay
Will you be there when I fall
To my knees and pray
For an ordinary day
An ordinary day

Say you'll stay here through all the lies
Take my weakness and steal my pride
So can we turn the page?
Cause everybody hurts the same

I really wonder if I could
Find another way
Oh won't you tell me that you would
Find the heart to stay
Will you be there when I fall
To my knees and pray
For an ordinary day
An ordinary day
