

Outlier

Bob Moses

I'll pick out one of my faces
And walk right out my door
I'll take it round all the places
That I've been before
Have me some conversation
I tell you that less is more
I tell you that less is more

Everything always seems fine
When you look from the outside
Everyone's having the time of their life
From the outside
You'd never know something ain't right
When you look from the outside
When you look from the outside
When you look from the outside

Tell me if you can see it
The trouble that's on my mind
Nobody would believe it
Me leaving it all behind
I'm hoping it's not contagious
Living inside your lie
Living inside your lie

Everything always seems fine
When you look from the outside
Everyone's having the time
When you look from the outside
You'd never know something ain't right
When you look from the outside
When you look from the outside
When you look from the outside
