

Trophy Girl

Bobby Bare

I could see the storm clouds in the valley
Yeah, I could almost taste it in the wind
Never thought today she'd be leaving me
Only thought storm was blowing in
And she dropped that bomb on me this morning
Said she didn't want me anymore
Said she found her someone she loved better
And she shook her trophy ass and then she walked right out the door

I never thought that we'd go on forever
'Cause trophy girls don't hang around too long
Always looking round for greener pasture
And when they find something better they move on

I always knew someday that she'd be leaving
But I guess I wasn't ready for the pain
I'm watching the taillights of that new Mustang that I bought her
Slowly disappearing in the rain

I can't say I didn't see it coming
'Cause trophy girls don't hang around too long
Always looking round for greener pasture
And when they find something better they're just gone

So it's goodbye trophy girl, kiss my ass
