Which One Is To Blame?

Bobby Bare

I wonder which one of us is to blame?

The nicest thing that's come my way is you But I cannot offer you my heart or name Oh, it isn't fair to do me like you do I wonder which one of us is to blame?

Somehow I can't blame myself Although I guess I should And I can't place the blame on you I would have if I could.

We've made ourselves the gossip of the town The things we've done can only bring us shame We've let our passion drag our honor down I wonder which one of us is to blame?

Your nearness makes me tremble with desire Your ruby red lips set my soul aflame But for you I'd be a beggar thief or liar I wonder which one of us is to blame?

Somehow I can't blame myself Although I guess I should And I can't place the blame on you I would have if I could.

I wonder which one of us is to blame?...
