

Cover Girl

Bobby Caldwell

Saw your picture on the cover of Vogue
It was hard to believe
You took me for such a rogue
In those high school days

And I watched as your story unfolds
You weep through the years
How you glimmer
How I love you

Cover Girl
You keep changing
Every face is a mystery
Cover girl
How sweet life can be

I keep holding the vision of you
I watched you walk away
And to this very day
I will dream of you Cover Girl

Cover Girl
Will you ever grow old
You've weathered the years
How you shimmer
How I love you

Cover Girl
You keep changing
Every face is a mystery
Cover Girl
How sweet life can be
