

Mother of Creation

Bobby Caldwell

I think I've got the right
To decide my destiny
What's all this fuss and fight
It's so unnecessary

I will fight for the groove
I don't care what people say
I can't be criticized
If I fall in love each day

When it feels so right
That you can't resist temptation
It's an oversight
By the Mother of Creation

I never claim to do
A thing humanitarian
Well I only know what's near to me
And I ain't no legionary

I will fight for the groove
I don't care what people say
I can't be criticized
If I fall in love each day

I know I wasn't meant to be
In a life with no variety
And why should it bother you
