

About You

Bobby Darin

Perhaps another time
Or maybe another place
Could have eased my mind
Would have never seen your face
Or heard about you
But now you call my name
And you're reality
Though it's hard to explain
I know I'll never be Without you

I know nothing about you
But I know, I don't doubt your love
And I know that it's real
By God above
I know how I feel
About you

Got a handful of gold
And a pocketful of dreams
A heart full of love
And I know what it means
To be without you

Come sit by my side
And share with me
All the feelings inside
And the things that you see
About you

I'd always know you'll be here today
Waiting for me now
The time is right
So you'll hear me say
That for all my life
I'll always stay
About you

I'd always know you'll be here today
Waiting for me now
The time is right
So you'll hear me say
That for all my life
I'll always stay
About you
About you
About you
