

The Greatest Builder Of Them All

Bobby Darin

He's the greatest builder
Of them all

There was a man
They call the greatest builder
Because he built
A tower made of stone
He built a bridge
That crossed a mighty river
He built a city
Where a wilderness had grown

But there's someone else you see
Who's mightier than gay
That someone built the mountains
Grey and tall
May the oceans and the bays
Built the world in seven days
And He's the greatest builder of them all

There was a man
They call the greatest builder
Because he built
The pyramids of stone
He built the sticks
To last throughout the ages
So there is amen thing
Forever would be gone

But there's someone else you see
Who's mightier than he
Who built the skies
And made the raindrops fall
Only He created men
Made him with his mighty hand
Yes He's the greatest builder of them all
Yes He's the greatest builder of them all