

You'll Never Find Nobody

Bobby Goldsboro

You can look in every city
You can search in every town
You can sail across every ocean
You can search the world around
You can climb up every mountain
Even fly the sky of blue
But you'll never find nobody
Who will love you like I do

When you find your spring is over
And the flowers all have died
When you find your friends desert you
I'll still be by your side
When all your dreams have ended
I'll still be there with you
'Cause you'll never find nobody
Who will love you like I do

They can take all my possessions
And not leave me anything
Just as long as you're beside me
I'll still feel like a king
There are others who might tell you
They would give the world to you
But you'll never find nobody
Who will love you like I do

When the autumn leaves are falling
And the ground is white with snow
Then I will be your fire
Till the flowers start to grow
And if I had to give my life
I'd give it up for you
'Cause there'll never be nobody
Who will love you like I do

And when the years have come and gone
And time has left us old
I'll still be there beside you
To keep you from the cold
In this world of broken promises
One thing will be true
You'll never find nobody
Who will love you like I do

You'll never find nobody
Who will love you like I do
