

Long Enough To Forget

Bobby Lewis

It's a little bit soon to forget you too late to regret that I met you
You're right I'd be wrong to carry this all
Any further when I can have you
I'll always remember the touch of you I love you so much I won' t hurt you
And you know I may live to get over you yet
But I won't live long enough to forget

Go on home to the one that you're tied to He may never make you happy but he's tryin' to I won't call you again though I want to I'll go so far away I can't hurt you
And you know I may live to get over you yet
But I won't live long enough to forget
I won't live long enough to forget