

Gina

Bobby Womack

Now that was just name
Everybody's got their Gina
Only the name's been changed to protect the innocent

Gina, ooh
Only if I could turn back the hands of time
Ooh, I would erase all your doubts and fears, huh
That were put there by me, put there by me, my dear

Ooh, Gina
All those times I told you, I called you at your name
Ooh, I was under so much pressure
Oh, I know I must have, I must have drove you insane

And oh, to only be able to tell you how much I love you
Oh, and not be able to show you how much I care
Sometime pressure hid away a beauty so high
Oh, sometime I get so mad, I just wanted to lay down and die

Do it all, you lost it all
It's too late to bring the hands time

But now the better days are here
How can I forget the breach
It's you, my dear
All the time
It was you, my dear

Ahh, Gina, oh dear
All those years you had to
While I was trying to ease my soul somewhere on the road
But I never, never, never stopped
