

All The Blues

BoDeans

Can't seem to get it started
Can't seem to light the fuse
Can't find the energy that I will need to use
Just want to lay around
This dusty musty place like Miss Haversham

Woke up one morning and I just didn't give a damn
So sick and tired of this person that I am
Don't think that I can make it
Don't think that I can fake it
Such a sham

Leave me alone, let me just lay here
Leave me alone, let me just stay here
I've got all the blues today
I've got all the blues today

When I was young I never Thought I'd end up this way
My heart was always looking forward to a better day
I wonder if it's madness
Cuz now it's only sadness that I crave

So many things can go wrong
Just trying to do what's right
My candle blew out
In the middle of the night
And in this darkness
I'm just trying to make it home
But I'm lost in flight

Leave me alone, let me just lay here
Leave me alone, let me just stay here
I've got all the blues today
I've got all the blues today

Leave me alone, let me just lay here
Leave me alone, let me just stay here
I've got all the blues today
I've got all the blues today
