

Loved

BoDeans

Not gonna leave you standing all alone
Wondering which way to go to get back home
Three years old on the street and you're too scared
To even think about moving

I'm not gonna leave you stumbling in the dark
Left to the world of the takers
No I'm going to help you to understand, and know
I'm going to help you and everywhere you go

And oh when the winds of change come
Baby don't you know
You're strong enough to go on

And you're gonna know you were loved
And you're gonna know I was always thinking about you
Gonna feel like you were a lucky one
You're gonna know you were loved
You're gonna know you were loved

You're not gonna find me siding against you
I'm not going to bring you down like people do
I'm not going to send you flying to the floor
Lost in the pain and never trusting anymore

And oh when the winds of change come
Baby don't you know
You're strong enough to go on

You're gonna know you were loved
And you're gonna know I was always thinking about you
Gonna feel like you were a lucky one
You're gonna know you were loved
You're gonna know you were loved

You're gonna know you were loved
And you're gonna know I was always thinking about you
Gonna feel like you were a lucky one
You're gonna know you were loved
You're gonna know you were loved
