

Pressure Queen

BoDeans

I can feel the heat coming off you tonight
Got a fire for the righteous fight
You've been righting wrongs since you were just a kid
I can't believe it's still going on

I watch you wage these wars in the distance
I try to pick you up when you're falling down
Throwing words like stones and broken bones
Will you ever settle down?

Pressure queen you're always fighting
For what's right in a world gone wrong
Pressure queen you're always fighting
Waiting for the day to come along
So you can lay your weapons down

I found you lost and alone in a crowded room
Broken down trying to fit yourself in Lost your way I know 'cause I've been there so
That's funny thing about you and me
We're still waiting for the world to see

Pressure queen you're always fighting
For what's right in a world gone wrong
Pressure queen you're always fighting
Waiting for the day to come along
So you can lay your weapons down

Pressure queen you're always fighting
Waiting for the day to come along
So you can lay your weapons down
