

Today

BoDeans

I don't know how I got this far away
But I don't feel right in my own skin today

It seems like I'm always moving in the wrong way
Keep thinking things will change, change some day

It's like everybody knows, everybody else believe
Everybody's got something good to say, and interesting

And all I can see are the bright colors in my head
I should roll myself right down, get out of bed

No not today...
No not today...

No not today...
No not today...

Hey...

But I don't know why, I always feel so alone
But I feel it cold and I feel it right down, to the bone

I wanna close my eyes real tight, let it drift away
But there's no turning back for me, not here today

No not today...
No not today...

No not today...
No not today...

I know, you feel, I'm crazy
It's like everybody feels, emptiness, its plain to see

But Mr. Sad Clown, you're lingering, in a bad place
Won't you steal, those tears, away

And hey, hey, hey...
Not today, hey, hey...

And long as I can recall, it's been part of me
Though it isn't always so clear, or plain to see it, no

And it's so damn hard thinking about breaking off from you
But it feels just like it might be the right thing to do

Yeah...

Maybe today...
Maybe today...

Yeah... yeah...

Maybe today...
Maybe today...

Maybe today... hey... hey...

Yeah...
