

2 Many Times

Bodyjar

What group are you supposed to be in
You need a direction, a fashion, a change
Try and show everyone you're different
You give me your reasons then still stay the same
You've been in this scene for as long as me
Just say fuck to your peers
And say what you mean

I can't believe that you just stand there
And say all the things that you've said before
Put on an act and all your friends will make believe
You won't open your eyes it's so hard to perceive

It's not fair you had to wait in line
You'll have to pay 2 times
When you're wrong you'll find

It's been 2 many times too many
It's been 2 many times today

Reason, don't need a reason
Meaning, you need a meaning
