

Clean Slate

Bodyjar

Suddenly waiting for something that I know won't come

Now I've

Only got time to think how did it end up this way?

Not enough

Not enough inside

All the things that are here to remind me

Would you take them away?

All the things that that you learn to rely on

Change in your lifetime

Dream state

I won't deny now that something was holding us back

Clean slate

Nothing worth writing so I just confide in myself
