Destructive Infinity

Bolt Thrower

You never thought life could come to this Man reborn to die upon the altar of war

And now we stand to face the truth This world now enslaved, bound by hate

In fear of life, now that the mindless control As the flame of hope for mankind now burns away

For now you stand alone to die Whilst visions of horror infest your mind

Destructive - Man's lust for power Infinity - A lifetime of war

Destroying your world, again and again Suffering in torment, through agonising pain

Killing for pleasure, only the strong shall remain An arising slaughter, as hatred and terror now reigns

Destructive - The world ripped apart Infinity - A never ending fear
