

All Ages Shows

Bomb the Music Industry!

All of my work was done
I turned the TV on and I forgot that I can turn it off.
We live up on the top.
They leave the door unlocked.
So just come in.
I don't need to buzz you up
and I never go anywhere.
I am a babbling brook
You are a pile of bricks
You'll stop the flood and it will make me sick.
You are the shoes and feet
I am a pile of shit
I'm fking up a good relationship
and I never go anywhere.
In a trashed room in 1996.
A fourteen year old punk and in a flash I'm my parents.
And we'll never know love, 'cause I was too busy talking to my
Green Day posters
They never said nothing to me.
Let's start a conversation about anything.
I'm tired of arguing.
It isn't fun for me.
Reverse psychology instead of just listening up - that always s eemed stupid to me.
Can you stay here?
Can we blast the Descendents?
Can we turn our phones off and get lost in The Simpsons?
I feel inches away from getting swallowed by darkness.
And I know that you're tired, but can you draw back the curtain s for me?
My friends ain't all that great.
We play in legion halls, slam beers outside, relieve ourselves on walls.
My friends ain't all that bad.
We play all ages shows and we'll start on time if you decide to go.
