

Everybody That You Love

Bomb the Music Industry!

They're looking at me with their glassy eyes
They're gonna bury me
To leak with Hennessey and ecstasy
They're gonna bury me
I guess I probably should have done my research

And I know that it is darkest before dawn
Cause I've been staying out for way too long
And I know that it only takes one call
We've got no options

So people can fake it but my arms hurts and my hands start shaking
You're all scared of me
I try to keep my kamikaze shell
They're gonna bury me
I guess I should have watched where I was pissing

Instead of off the rocks
Up in those fancy Greenpoint docks
We had such an awesome night
And getting shanked would be a disappointment

I understand it's hot before the storm
Because I like to hang out where it's warm
And I know that it is darkest before dawn
But I see clearly, oh I get it now

All the people I love the best
Are starting to get frustrated with my being a mess
And the people I kind of hate are always impressed
All the people I love the best
Are growing increasingly impatient with the person I am
And the people I hardly know would never understand

And I know that it is darkest before dawn
Cause I've been staying up for way too long
And even if I never get to call
I still loved you

Will you love me too
Do do do do doooooo