Bon Iver

I can see where you're coming from
I got time, I can give you some
I just love it when you call me "Baby"
Though it's happening less lately

I can fit
I can fit it all
Nothing's really wrong so
From now on

Don't let it trouble your mind, your mind
Just take my love in your time

No need to hurry
Give me your worry
We can just keep it here for now

When I called you from the hotel
You said you were doing well
But I could tell
Just last May there was confetti in the car
And now, it seems we're far apart
But I'm ready

Don't you feel me?
Don't you feel compelled?
Oh, you now can just be yourself
From now on

Don't let it trouble your mind, your mind
Just take my love in your time

I am ready, run from fear
I'm from somewhere far from here
So tell me when the coast is clear
Wanna kiss you ear from ear
Can I take another year?
Must I be so damn severe?
From the valley to the pier
I'm beset with what we could become

Tell me you're ready
I can see where you're coming from
I'm holding steady
We can just keep it here for now
