

Waves

Bon Jovi

I pour another glass, got to get some sleep
Pictures of the past rolling over me
Big moon on the rise, comes to read my mind
When you're running from yourself
There's no good place to hide

Tide is rising, and I'm riding
Waves
They take me down, no one here gonna save me now
Waves
They knock me off my feet
Waves
Now I understand, I see her face, I see her hand
And she waves, then fades away from me

We made love and war
Got too far from the shore
Thought you were waving, you were drowning
Our footprints in the sand
Water through my hand
I just can't wrap my arms around you

Tide is rising, and I'm riding
Waves
They take me down, no one here gonna save me now
Waves
They knock me off my feet
Waves
Now I understand, I see her face, I see her hand
And she waves, then fades away from me

Put our boat out on the river
Never made it to the sea
I thought we were being reckless
You thought we were being free
Now I dream we're in the ocean
And I'm sinking as you drift away from me

Tide is rising, and I'm riding

Waves
They take me down, no one here gonna save me now
Waves
They knock me off my feet
Waves
Now I understand, I see her face, I see her hand
And she waves, then fades away from me

She waves, then fades away from me
