Bones Brigade

i've stared death in the face and pissed on the fires of hell stood on the bones from those who have fell i'll keep on moving forward, why dwell on the past? cause glory fades and the bruises won't last cut flesh to the bone, headstrong into the unknown there's one truth that you can always trust no matter how many scars, well keep on fighting the world through the torment i've realized no one can stop us life stands on my chest, but it won't choke me as i breathe you can show us the door, but we won't ever leave so give it your best shot, with broken bones we won't fall our will is much too potent you can't ever stop us all
