Woke up this morning in bed
Sleeping right where you slept
There was a stranger instead there this morning
From now on if I wanna see your face
I'll visit you in dreams where you'll never change

But I think we gotta die, the death of you and I
You can bring the rum, I'll bring a tear to my eye
Let's kill what we have now and let the memory survive
I think we gotta die, I think we gotta die

Maybe some things are too good to last too long
Maybe I'll know how to love you when you're gone
Put what we made in a box and agree to differ
Watch it sink into the LA river
And sometimes, if I wanna see your face
I'll visit you in dreams where we'll never change

But I think we gotta die, the death of you and I
The flowers in our tree have all curled up and died
The memories of good are what's keeping us alive
But it's not good enough, I think we gotta die
I think we gotta die, the death of you and I
One of us is getting out of here alive
It's the only way we may survive
So I think we gotta die

Beautiful day for a funeral
You look so good with your black suit on
Beautiful day for a funeral
Kinda reminds me why we fell in love

Beautiful day for a funeral
You look so good with your back suit on
Beautiful day for a funeral
Kinda reminds me why we fell in love

Of why we fell in love

The death of you and I
This is not good enough

I think we gotta die, the death of you and I
One of us is getting out of here alive
It's the only way we may survive
Is if we die, do not cry
We done good, and my God, we tried
Let's kill what we have now and let the memory survive
'Cause if it's not good enough, I think we gotta die
I think we gotta die, the death of you and I
Only one of us is getting out of here alive
It's the only way we may survive

So I think we gotta die
The death of you and I
This is not good enough
This is not good enough
