

Shooting Star

Bonfire

Super hero have you lost your way today There's no one listening to the songs you play Would you give up everything just to live the dream
All things at all times inside you Having all you need Regardless of changes as long as you can breathe
You found out the hard way wiping the slate clean you vowed and prayed Set your soul free

Now your a shooting star
the world is out there waiting Watching your light across the sky
Now your a shooting star
the bands anticipating Wondering if your light will carry on

Ridin the rainbow in the dark so many colors fade Cause the road to homes a long road with a heavy price to pay When you pay the toll your all alone givin everything Away
