

Time

Bonfire

There's a time for everything
There's a time for everyone
There's a time to show your weakness
There's a time to show you're strong
There's a time to say hello
There's a time to say good-bye
There's a time to make confessions
There's a time to stand and fight

Our life's just a moment in time
Every dawn brings a new day
Just one of a kind

Time will show you when it's time
Time will show you if you read the signs
Time ain't something you can steal or buy
Time will tell you if it's real or fake
Time will tell you that it's never too late
Time ain't standing still it just goes by
As time goes by

There's a time to face the truth
There's a time to testify
There's a time to live your passion
There's a time to justify
There's a time to keep the faith
There's a time to live belief
There's a time to die for freedom
There's a time to rest in peace

Time is money but money ain't time
And you can't take a rain check
When it's time to say good-bye

Time will show you when it's time
Time will show you if you read the signs
Time ain't something you can steal or buy
Time will tell you if it's real or fake
Time will tell you that it's never too late
Time ain't standing still it just goes by
As time goes by

There's a time for all or nothing
Anyway and anytime
There's a time to live forever
That's when time is on your side
