

Missing One

Bonnie 'Prince' Billy

I know that missing you
Has just begun
There's years to come
And trying to sleep tonight
Next to your kin
Is fully lovely
As I've ever been
But I wouldn't trade my life
For someone's millions
And I know you left
For a reason
And the trees and flowers
And creeks and rocks
Hold your face
With every season

I know I will continue
To try and please you
And even in some ways
To try and be you
But also my fulfillment
Will be to do what I do
As you taught me to
I know that missing you
Has just begun
Love me family
And just sleep to all of us
