Don't leave me left alone
Got a better side that I never show
And you've been stressed for sure
When it's pebbles thrown know we set it stone
And you the rarest soul and I care for sure
No you can't be cloned
Don't leave me left alone
Got a better side that I never show

Aside from all this wack shit, you so refreshing
Aside from all this rap shit, I need your presence
A side memo to all the bitches that's texting
No better feeling than letting y'all know I read it
As I, as I start scrolling through this thread
I see I always tell you so, I see you always on my head
I wanna talk about these women and that bullshit that get fed
But my inner nigga be making me say fuck a bitch instead
Man I had to let you know
This earth flaw from the crevice to the flesh
You my blessing, I'm in debt
I smell heaven on your breath
I got demons on my shoulders tryna pawn what's in my chest
They throw petals when I step I'm a king who did his best
And shit I know, I know

Don't leave me left alone
Got a better side that I never show
And you've been stressed for sure
When it's pebbles thrown know we set it stone
And you the rarest soul and I care for sure
No you can't be cloned
Got a better side that I never show

Don't leave me left alone
Got a better side that I never show
And you've been stressed for sure
When it's pebbles thrown know we set it stone
And you the rarest soul and I care for sure
No you can't be cloned
Don't leave me left alone
Got a better side that I never show
