Booze & Glory

When you feel like a robot, like a doll
And when you don't understand nothing
Born on this world over 30 years ago
And still don't know which way you go

And when you life is like a television show
Where someone else always decides
Don't wanna fight don't wanna lose don't wanna know
But always hold your head up high

When people treat you like a reject, like scum
You want to say: "piss off you cunts"
Don't want to listen to their never ending lies
Crowd full of shit, you've had enough

Spend all your time working your bollocks off
Still cant afford to have a sprog
Your payday soon but you already know
The taxmen comes and takes it all

And when you know its time to die how will you feel?
Is this the world you're gonna miss?
Is this the place where you always wanted to be
Where even beer taste like a piss.
