

Burning Tears

Borealis

The Sunrise
The fire is burning
I can see the leaves fall
I am alone inside

I reach out
My tears keep on falling
I look into the dark sky
The Devils hand is mine

I will hold on
To the life that I remember
Take me home
Tonight

There's Darkness
I am cold and I am tired
I can hear them calling me
I can see them rise

My last song
My life is turning
I can feel the embers
Burning me inside

I will hold on
To the life that I remember
Take me home

I say goodbye
To the life I had
I fall asleep, and fade away

I will find
A better place to run
A better place to run

My fight is over
My eyes are getting tired
The smell of smoke is in the air

I can feel the River
Wash away my sins
I lay my head down
And drift away
