

EVOL

Boris

Its color and pattern are unfixed
Its shape was different yesterday
It flutters as it crosses borders
You state your case
With a song and a sound that endlessly transform
You hold tight to your convictions

Let's raise this flag
And wave it towards a distant sky

A rising current
The moment you've been waiting for
Ushering in a new chapter
The moment you've been waiting for

Let's raise this flag
And wave it towards a distant sky

Everything's been said, many times over
Of this resignation and anxiety
But you've let go
March with confidence, to the beat of your heart
Unwavering, over the horizon

What are you afraid of?
I've loved you from the start

Let's raise this flag
And wave it towards a distant sky
Let's wave this flag
And conquer every obstacle
