

Born Again

Born Against

Born again as just another product born again as the next big thing once a Vehicle for outrage now just entertainment packaged tastefully the status quo Whose very abuses generated our contempt now courts us now treats us like the Serviles they know we've become I reject the leveraged buyout I reject the Corporate sellout I reject their lame ass version of what the fuck music's all About and make no mistake all they want is your money all they need is your Numb nod of approval and all they demand is your silence born a gain dead
