

Poster Child

Born of Osiris

You'll never laugh in the same way you did
So dilute your instincts
You pretend to shake the snow globe
But say, "Forget the world" in your misery
Always locked in the cradle, feeding
How much more do you need?
You refuse to take the high road
Lay the blame in yourself and not at your feet

Speak to me
Poster child
'Cause you know everything
You know everything about the world
What would I ever do?
Ever do without you? 'Cause you know everything
'Cause you know everything

If your memories of the past are bigger than your future plans
You're going nowhere, you're moving backwards
Guilty, guilty, why this anxiety?
You say the engine died?
Try turning the key

Speak to me
Poster child
'Cause you know everything
You know everything about the world
What would I ever do?
Ever do without you? 'Cause you know everything

Hear the telephone is absent silent
Operate on influence
Always lying
Slip down and spiral
Can we increase the dose?
A million tiny reasons
It's so easy breathing
The air is poison
You walk on crooked grounds
Your upsides gone and insides down

Speak to me
Poster child
'Cause you know everything
You know everything about the world
What would I ever do?
Ever do without you? 'Cause you know everything

Speak to me
(You know everything)
Poster child
(You know everything about the world)
And what would I ever do?
'Cause you know everything
