

Don't Speak

Born Without Bones

Shame, bitterness and judgment
Why? I just want to let the feeling die
And get on with my life
Blame, misdirection and resentment
Tried to diminish all my exits
Why? Thought you wanted me out of your mind

Cause I was a waste of space and time
Think it'd work when stars align

But now we don't speak
Isn't that weird?
I want to believe it was something special
Now it's just history that I can't remember

Did you know I'd go to spare you the argument?
If it's your move I can handle the truth
But without you I've got nothing to lose

Forgot all the names of your crew
Now it feels like a daydream so
Here's a song of redemption sung for you

And now we don't speak
Isn't that weird?
I want to believe it was something special
Now it's just history that I don't remember
Tell me you felt a sudden fear of affection
And I kept calling you out of love
Now you're calling me out of the blue just to say I'm thinking of you

Now we don't speak
Isn't that weird?
I want to believe in you

And now we don't speak
Isn't that weird?
I used to believe it was something special
Now it's just history that I won't remember
Tell me you feel a sudden fear of affection
And I keep calling you out
