

Do you remember wasting light in September?
Thought that we'd grow old forever
Only true friends matter
And like old photographs they scatter
Love or hate you take the ladder
I'm still locked in a cage you rattle
No way out

I was a fool when I met you
I'd do anything just trying to impress you, undress you
I hid my feelings like I had none
Cruisin' with you shotgun
Friendship is the new sport
With you I'd go anywhere
So tell me where you want to stay

Cause baby I could change
I'm really up for anything at all
I want to save this, maybe rearrange it
And try before there's nothing left to reconnect us now

I can only hope to make things right someday
Your new number evading me
You couldn't help to change my ways it was all too crazy
Now I keep on acting out
And you know I'm hurting
I'm too slow
Why can't I just apologize, compassion it's basic Self hatred's shameless
And I don't want to go out
I want to stay

I don't want to change
Not really up for anything at all
Don't want to say this, but I'm tired of waiting
We tried before, there's nothing left to connect
You are breaking my patience
There's nothing left to reconnect us now
Get out

Just tell if you want to stay
Cause maybe we can change
I'm really up for anything at all
Maybe we can save it, maybe rearrange it
And try before there's nothing left to reconnect
I was waiting so patient
When there was nothing left to reconnect
I don't want to say this but I'm tired of waiting
We tried before, there's nothing left to reconnect us now
