Everybody need something to believe in
Everybody need something to put their trust in [x2]
Some with luck, put their faith in love
Some show off and let the money talk
Some look up, read the stars above
Some believe in making dead man walk

Another year and another week, another day
Time keeps running and everything will be okay [x2]

Everybody need something to believe in
Everybody need something to put their trust in [x2]
Free...believe in what you want
Free...believe in what you want

Some might say it's a miracle
Some might call it the destiny
Some let God, lead them all the way
Some would say they believe in me

Another year and another week, another day
Time keeps running and everything will be okay [x2]
