Boston Manor

Is anybody out there now?
Is anybody real?
So run to the back door, run 'til you're new
And pull that loose thread that's been bothering you
Don't turn around and look away what ever you do (You do, you do)

I just woke up like this
Container, container (Leave it and run)
It's taken everything
Container, container
Mass appeal
Can you feel with your face to the wall?
Left in the last in the dark away from it all

No oxygen in the ceiling
Nothing that's left to believe in now
Nothing to believe in now

I just woke up like this
Container, container (Leave it and run)
It's taken everything
Container, container
Don't tell me who you are
Show me what you're made of
Show me who you are

(Leave it and run)
(Leave it and run)

Don't tell me who you are
Show me what you're made of
Show me who you are

I just woke up like this
Container, container
It's taken everything
Container

I just woke up like this
Container, container (Leave it and run)
It's taken everything
Container, container
Don't tell me who you are
Show me what you're made of
Show me who you are
