

Hate You

Boston Manor

You missed the exit sign
It's all falling apart now
Cause we were doing fine
Until you messed it up now

One day the world you knew will all come crashing down

I hate you, you hate me
Let's set fire to the streets
We ain't going nowhere
(We ain't going nowhere)
I hate you, you hate me
And we ain't going nowhere
And we ain't going nowhere

I'm sick of dead machines
Telling me how to feel
I want my slate clean
And my people real

One day the world you knew will all come crashing down

I hate you, you hate me
Let's set fire to the streets
We ain't going nowhere
(We ain't going nowhere)
I hate you, you hate me
And we ain't going nowhere
And we ain't going nowhere

There's a fire in the park and you're all invited
So come along, so come along
There's a fire in the park and you're all invited
So come along, so come along

I've got nothing to lose
And I hate you too
The way you dress
And the things that you do
The smile on your face
The smell of this place
I fucking hate you
I fucking hate you

I hate you, you hate me
Let's set fire to the streets
We ain't going nowhere
(We ain't going nowhere)
I hate you, you hate me
And we ain't going nowhere
We ain't going nowhere

There's a fire in the park and you're all invited
So come along, so come along
So come along, so come along
