

See You In Three Years

Boston Manor

You're only twenty two
With the world chasing you
Your feet up, your head down
That's all you'll ever do
After all of this time
You were waiting to find
The kind of man you want to be
Instead you're up late calling me

All you ever wanted was to have something to lose
You're on a one way flight
(Nobody can save you)
You're just wasting all your time
So please just step out of line

You left home, gonna test
You lost touch with your friends
None above, it's your choice
You call it bad so we can't
Moving star
You'll just laugh
You'll be drowning in doubt
No ship has sailed

All you ever wanted was to have something to lose
You're on a one way flight
(Nobody can save you)
You're just wasting all your time
So please just step out of line

You're just wasting all your time
So please just step out of line
