

Transitions from Persona to Object

Botch

Wide eyes help you stand out and the fact that you bare all skin
Silhouettes keep me thinking about the habits you are in Watch us blanket all things and solidify all claims
Hopes, dreams, we're here to make ourselves better
Time to build our colony
There's no stopping it now, conquest is at hand
And the thirst for more and the need for more go on Never satisfied, never dormant, we go on
See us conquer all the humans that are left
This is our new home and we're still building
