

My Strength

Boundaries

I will stand unmoved
Your voice falls silent before me
I'm not listening, I'm not listening
To another mother fucker like you (I can't hear you)

My will remains intact
Reject the infection, pressure to act
No reason to do
Keep my distance, stay away from you

This is my decision for myself and no one else
I have nothing to give those that only take

My every confidence established
By a clarity of mind
This life is mine and I have chosen my side (Chosen my side)
I will not be shaken

By a world of indifference

Something to live by
Something to die by
Something to live by
Something to die by

I know now just as I knew then
That this is my strength
And I am immune to your influence
Today will not be the day
I start giving a fuck what you think