

Those Southern Times

Bourbon Crow

Often think back to the days playing
GI Joe on a sunny day, oh those were the days
Living wild and living free
Living life like it's suppose to be
Oh those were the days

Swinging on the front porch
And laughing all the worries away
Oh how it makes me smile
Just to think back to those days

Oh the southern times, never let me down

Daddy sat me down one day
Said son there are some things, yeah
Oh those were the days
Said you can live for something or die for nothing, yeah
Oh those were the days

Swinging on the front porch
And laughing all the worries away
Oh how it makes me smile
Just to think back to those days

Oh the southern times, never let me down
