

Abraham

Boy & Bear

Well the eye of the storm had divided
And I couldn't barely move
It was the wrong time of the year for that fall
And I've ingrained what I could never have before
And I remember the way that the earth seemed to sway 'cause of an almighty moon
That kind of trance took hold of me
'Cause I think her dance touched all over me

And oh, I'm still in awe for you
Well mountain kinda meant to me
Above all the things that I've ever seen
That song I got to learn
I got the fire in the belly of the grace of kingdom come
I got the groove in the back of my head
I got the love of Abraham
If there's a chance just to call me around
I take you all on the bridge but keep your heads rights down
Just stop 'til you get to the rodeo town is out

And oh she moved to the beat of an angel
But don't you be deceived
Oh won't you come just to rest for a while?
But I saw the night through the boulder that smile on her face
I wasn't planning to go down that way
I felt the weight of the world move that day
I watched the wind clear the views of my youth
But I saw nothing
No, I saw nothing

But oh, I'm still in awe for you
Well mountain kinda meant to me
Above all the things that I've ever seen
That song I got to learn
I got the fire in the belly of the grace of kingdom come
I got the groove in the back of my head
I got the love of Abraham
If there's a chance just to call me around
I take you all on the bridge but keep your heads rights down
Just stop 'til you get to the rodeo town
'Cause if it does come around no it ain't coming after me

I could not move
'Cause I got nowhere to run
My midnight boo
Oh you better run son
And I could not move
'Cause if it does come around no it ain't coming after me
