

All These Years

Boy & Bear

Show me the way
Is this too much I'm asking for
I got so much to say
But I'm learning to listen more

And I'd be lying if I said I ain't got fears
But that's the way things stand
And we'll keep finding a way to embrace this life
Cos baby that's the plan

I don't understand
Is this too much I'm asking for
I need somewhere to land
Where I can feel myself once more

And I'd be lying if I said I ain't got fears
I'm doing all I can
And as I fumble around I will wait here for you
Cos baby that the plan

I didn't know
Which way the sun was pointing
But I'm not alone
I know, I know, this heart will grow

And I'd be lying if I said I ain't got fears
And I've been trying to land it for all these years
Just trying to stand in the sun
Just trying to stand in the sun
Just trying to stand in the sun
