

Lost Control

Boy & Bear

So saddle up beside of me
You think you got skin in this game
Maybe I've seen more of life with it's madness
And it knows my name
But in the moonlight
I'm kicking old habits
Come see the shadow show
'Cause some of us have seen the semblance of sadness
But how it let's you grow

Why does it always surround me
I'm letting it go
Feels like the world isn't fair sometimes
But it's the way that it rolls

If I remember right
You covered my eyes
You said, "Won't you befriend this stranger?"
'Cause you got the right to be standing by my side
My love

So saddle up beside of me
I think I can manage
I'm down where the angels glow
But every time I get too close to this canyon
My hands let go

Why does it always surround me
I'm letting it go
Feels like the world isn't fair sometimes
But It's all that I know
I remember the moment you found me
I'd lost control
But It's a mistake to resist this love
'Cause you're all that I know

Why does it always surround me
I'm letting it go
Feels like the world isn't fair sometimes
But It's all that I know
I remember the moment you found me
I'd lost control
But It's a mistake to resist this love
'Cause you're all that I know
