

Am I alone or am I
In the evidence I'm needing to glow
You're trying again and again to find
A second chance to take back all of your mind
But nothing feels right

Science is calling me
Deep from the grave
I met the moon twice last night
Through the smoke and haze
But I follow the ecstasy
Of the sounds that move my soul
It lifts me up
It lifts me up

Am I alone or am I
In the evidence I'm needing to glow
They say at the start that somehow it ends
But the silhouettes are back to take me again
Is there reasons within

Science is calling me
Deep from the grave
I met the moon twice last night
Through the smoke and haze
But I follow the ecstasy
Of the sounds that move my soul
It lifts me up
It lifts me up

I think there's a moment
I think there's a time
For all these things to collide

You pass me the moment
And I'll be the time
For all these things to collide
To collide...

Science is calling me
Deep from the grave
I met the moon twice last night
Through the smoke and haze
But I follow the ecstasy
Of the sounds that move my soul
It lifts me up
It lifts me up
It lifts me up
