

Thunder

Boy & Bear

Just for now
I'll keep wading my way through water
When the last thing I saw was thunder
I know it gets hard
But it ain't about to pull me under

I'm taking my chances
But what if the odds are right?
'Cause I can feel the fire of my youth
My dreams are dumb but full of answers
Oh, I wouldn't trade this life for no one's
But my hands are tied
Just for now

I'll keep wading my way through water
Taking every step towards her
I know it seems far
But it ain't about to pull me under
I'm taking my chances
I'm trying
We're trying

Take a step back
Do you feel the weight of gravity?
Did you emerge out of the rubble?
Oh, I could have sworn I'd seen those scars before
But my hands are tied
Just for now

I'll keep wading my way through water
When the last thing I saw was thunder
I know it gets hard
But it ain't about to pull me under
I'm taking my chances
We're trying
