

Just Enough

Boy George

Fear taking over
Having it's moment
You're not a bad kid
They pushed you too far

Up against the wall
Back down to the floor

She left when you were seven
Went to America
You would have done the same
America feels so far away

He never knew just how fragile you've become
He left her by the side of the road
Just to come undone
An old jumper
An abandoned shoe
That kind of sadness
Really describes you

Just enough
Ain't enough
I need more than that to get my head straight
Just enough
Ain't enough
She would trade a Cadillac for a milkshake

Window shopping
Colorful jumper
Clothes that tell the world
The entire story
And music that really changed the world

Did you know how fragile I've become
I did a little more than just come undone
And I still love you
My old son
It's never too late to forgive someone

Just enough
Ain't enough
I need more than that to get my head straight
Just enough
Ain't enough
She would trade a Cadillac for a milkshake

Driving down the freeway
Listening to the OJ's
With the radio on
With the radio on

Driving down the freeway
Listening to the OJ's
With the radio on
