

Unfinished Business

Boy George

Boy I know your secrets though you Brag and swagger
and you lay women down You're the same tough guy that cried in my arms
And kissed me when the lights went down I hear you married some Danish girl
I'm so glad that it wasn't me
'Cause you're like so many of those boys I've known
You break your promise easily
Unfinished business
fox in the headlights Tears for what might have been Unfinished business
crawling out of the woodwork
You know how to ruin a good dream
See your life reflected in my painted eyes
These memories are hard to shake I pressed my lips against your trembling flesh
And waited for your back to break
You liar, you coward, you sleeping fool
Hey don't you know that secrets kill Heaven and hell are right here on Earth Decided by your own free will Unfinished business
fox in the headlights
Tears for what might have been
Unfinished business
crawling out of the woodwork
I know how to ruin a good dream Now go tell your friends that I'm mad in my head
That I don't know what I mean You walk like Jack and you love like Mary
And you're more than a bit of a queen
Unfinished business
You know exactly what I mean
You lie, you lie, you lie
You lie, you lie, you lie
Unfinished business, yeah tough guy
You know exactly what I mean